This workshop will give governors the opportunity to look at some of the questions that inspectors may ask during the inspection. It will provide practical tips based on the experience of governors of Diocesan schools. Part of the session will involve governors working in small groups and answering questions that the inspectors might ask. Participants must come prepared to contribute as if an inspection were taking place. This session is aimed at chairs, vice-chairs and any other governors who might be interviewed by inspectors. If you think you are likely to be inspected in the next year, this session is for you.

Cost: Free to governors whose school subscribes to the Board's Service Agreement, other governors £50.
